Character of Lincoln. The following is an extract from Hon, George Bancroff's ordion on Lincoln, delivered in the House of Representatives, "at Washington, February 12404 101 The his character, Educate through and through a thro can. He was the first hatter of the regions west of the All ghan ies to attain to the highest station. The habits of his mind were those of meditation and inward thought, rather than of action. He excelled in logical statement more than in executive ability. He reasoned clearly His reflective judgment was good, and his purposes were fixed; but like the Hamlet of his only poet, his will was tardy in action; and from this reason, and not from humille sometimes regretted that the duty which devolved on him had not fallen, to the lot of another. He was skillful in analysis discerned with precision the central idea. on which a question turned, and knew how to disongage it, and present it by itself in a few homely, strong old English words that would be intelligible to all. He delighted to express his opinions by apothegm, to illustrate them by a parable, or to drive them home by a story. The last day of his life he beamed with sunshine as he sent by the Speaker of his House his friendly greetings to the men on the Rocky Mountains and Pacific slope, as he contemplated the return of hundreds of thousands of soldiers to fruitful industry, as he welcomed in advance hundreds of thousands of emigrants from Europe, as his eye kindled with enasm at the coming wes the nation. And so with these thoughts for his country he was removed from the toils and temptations of this life and was at peace.

THE DAWNING OF TRUTH.

TUESDAY MORNING, MARCH & 1806

by a prominent person that that at ne time during the exists Mormen Church has much dissa faction existed and become and be found now throughout the length and breadth of Utah. Further than this we were assured that hundreds of men and women, who now wear an outside Mormon mack, would throw it from them if assured that they would be sustained against the tyranny of the church. To all such we say come out boldly and firmly for the right and join hands with the liverance from Pulygamy and the exacting tyranny of Mormon Church leaders, who fatten and grow rich upon your toil and industry. Have no fear for the future. The cause of truth and civilization never retrograde. Each day witnesses for the courageous right, the development of a new strength and a new power Free speech can no longer be suppresse in Utab. The starry banner floats here ener American soil. It protects all loyal men and women-who dare to deny to any freeman the liberty of speech upon American domain? Who dare to say that living men and women-having thinking and, reasoning faculties given them by the Almighty, shall not exercise freedom of speech, and liberty of conscience in this land of free presses and freedom of thought, speech and action, Again we counsel all Mormons who are not yet fistened in Polygamy to abstain from the commission of that crime against God and civilization. Hold fast to the truth: The day of deliverance is rapidly approaching. Your leaders stricken with fear, dread the light of truth now dawning upon Utah. They fear its coming light, destined to penetrate every dark and hidden place of their infquitous system. They dare not meet argument with argument, but would fain resort to physical force to suppress the right. The day has forever gone when the Lion of the Harem can crush by physical force freedom of speech. Loyal men, resident of this Territory, know their rights, and Physicians were called in, but the wound was found to be of a nature to proclude surgical aid. The ball en tered the lower part of the abdomen on the left side, and ranged downward, and hodged in the pelvis. There is little chance of his recovery. Ward is 40 years old, and fought with great gallantry in the rebellion, and was wounded five times. Wharton is 30 years old, and also served in the late war. INNIGRANT. STOCKTON, TOOLET Co., U. T. February 28, 1866.

Editor Daily Union Vedette: DEAR SIR:—I arrived in these, the Rush Valley mines, June 4th, 1864, had owing to my mexperience as a miner, and almost entire ignorance as a mineral ogist Phave forborne writing anything in relation to these mines for the public eye, lest I might unintentionally deceive; but I am now prepared to give the following as facts: We have emough gold and silver bearing lodes, discovered and located, to give employment to the inhabitants of a city equal in population to habitants of a city equal in population to any city on the continent; the lodes vary in width measuring from one to more than twenty feet, assaying in silver from one hundred to over six thousand dollars per ton of ore; they are casy of access there being good natural roads to the major part of them. We have water enough for all practical purposes, and any quantity of timber for building and fuel, though I believe that eventually coal will be used fere almost entirely for fuel, it has been discovered within five hiles of this place, and I have every reason to believe that it exists in great quantities, for the same indications appear for miles to the southward from where the coal has actually been discovered, extracted

And nature fully determined to place

all the elements of a rich mining district here, has supplied us bountifully with gold. I have just returned from the mountains where I had been in an official capacity, to see that certain lodes which parties wanted to locate as gold quartz lodes, did not interfere with each other, or with prior locations. While there I prospected a little around one of the lodes (the Golden Eagle, No. 2,) and in a few minutes obtained several pieces of gold, varying in size from a pin head of gold, varying in size from a pin head up to three times that size, and a specimen of quartz from the lode in which the gold can be seen by the naked eye. There are a number of Californians here who have worked in gold quartz for years, who, without the least hesitancy, pronounce this as fine and rich as any quartz they have ever seen. The first lode (the Golden Eagle, No. 2) was discovered three days ago by N. G. Thompson and John Miller of the 2d Cav. Cal. Vol's. Since then perhaps more than twenty Since then perhaps more than twenty lodes have been discovered, which are in every feature like the Golden Bagle. I believe that good wages can be made by washing the dirt from about the ledges, yet that remains to be demonstrated.

We have within an area of a few inless any quantity of silver, coal, timber, and water, and I am quite confident that we have as good gold bearing quartz lodes as can be found anywhere, they are certainlicited defined and generally wide the Golden Gate appears to be at least thirty feet in width at the point of discovery. Add to the breating the advantages to be derived from being being but thirty eight miles from Great Satt Lake City, close by the route of the Pacific Railroid and among rich farms and productive gardens and orchards, (as we are here), and I think we have all the elements of a rich ship possible gaining district.

The "Lawyer" ledge at Placerville has been sold in New York for $39,000, and we are informed that the "Banner" lode at Banner City, is about to change owners also. One good mill at Banner will demonstrate the fact that the Banner District contains some of the richest leads in the country.

The Overland Stage Line is making good time now-five days between here and Salt Lake .- Statesman.

TAKING A HINE FTON THE MINERS. The engineers on the Central Pacific Railroad have adopted a new process of grading. At a place near Gold Run, where there is a long, deep cut through a th and gravel, they have rigged up a hydraulic, and are taking away the earth ten times as fast as it would be possible to cut it away by the ordinary process. They are supplied with water from the South Yaba Drich, and last week were running about four hundred inches. Parties accustomed to railroad grading were astonished at the rapidity with which the work was done by the hydraulic. This, we presume, is the first time the hydralic has ever been used for grading a railroad, and it does the work so rapidly that the engineers will hereafter use it at all practicable places .-

SOCIETY IN PARIS .- If it were possible that any reader, of the Tribune admired the morals of Paul de Koch, and re-gretted the gay "old times" of the French Regency and the glorious (!) days of our Charles II, I should advise him to come instantly to Paris. Things in that capital are nearing such a pass as to scandalize all Enrope. Paris was never remarkable for straight-facedness, but the modern Capna has generally managed heretofore to cover her shame with a fig-leaf of outward decency. Such evidences of weakness are now cast to the wind, and the orgies of the Second Empire challenge our admiration alongside those of the Parc aux Cerfs. - Paris Correspondence Chicago

Oppra enough Mormonism has cropped up in our divorce courts. A Mr. Hyde, ex editor of a country newspaper and Mormed missionary to the Saudwich Islands, when there became cenvinced of the error of his faith, and, in-continently preaching against it, offend-ed Brigham Young; so that the arch-polygamist divorced the man's wife from him, with her own, content. Some time afterward she married again, and one-sided responsibility. The case turns on what is the faw of the United States -does it recognize Mormon marriages, or no :- London Correspondent New York

MORMON Logic .- We give another bit of Mormon preaching, fresh from the Tabernacle at Salt Lake city: don's want to phey severy law, and don's want to infringe on her law, but when a law is made which hedges up the way to God, do you think we are going to ery out, we want no more wives? I think not! I think not! (Tremendens chorus of hamens.) Not The women want busbands, and we want more wives, and must have them." (Another vollage of hamens and hear is laughter.) Spring field Republican.

THE Jewish residents of this city remember that a few days ago the Teleegraph attempted to say sweet words to the Jewish people, winding up by asking "How stands Judah "to-day ?"-Having since rescertained how Judah stands on the Polygamy question, ther, people were made the subject of insulting remarks in the Tabernacle on lest Sabbath.

THE rebel Gen. Price, of Missouri, is at the head of the "Confederate States" colony in Cordova, Mexico. He has pre-empted six hundred and forty acres of land and started a town which he calls "Carlota" in honor of the Mexican Empress. In a letter to Dr. J. A. Mudd of Washington, he speaks in high terms of the natural resources of the country, and is sanguine of the success of his scheme.

THE Telegraph nowlong since referred sneeringly to the national debt. We noticed the remark at the time and again Tea, refer to it, by reason of an item in yesterday's dispatches, which states that since October last the public debt has been reduced $20,000.000-all expenses have been paid and the available fund of coin and currency on hand is $47,-500,000. Since the rebellion ceased, the amount of national debt cancelled exceeds the amount of the debt at the commencement of the war. Less than twenty years will witness the entire extinguishment of our public debt.

SENATOR, WARE .- The alleged attempt to assassinate Senator Wade has had a curious addition made to its history by the publication in the Washington papers of a long letter from the gigantic and ferocious "man in gray" who was accused of the attempt. His names is W. L. Fleming, and he describ s bimself as a "humble person" and a "Yapkee mechanic." According to his story, he called upon the Senstor to talk with bim in reference to some matters in the navy yards, but as the Senator was rather "cross," the interview was not pleasant or satisfactory, and the parties soon separated. But Fleming says there was no menance on either side, and as to the immense butcher-knife be was said to bave displayed, he declares that the nearest approach to it was a "blunt pointed, wide-bladed jack-knife," which he used to cut off a chew of to-Brevet Major Benjamin C. Cutler, for bacco. He further asserts that he was not "kicked down stairs," nor was followed by the Senator, that he had no pistol drawn upon bim, and that the whole story, as we first had it, was fle-

> THE Fourth Lecture on Polygamy, in Independence Hall, was delivered to a large and intelligant audience on last Sabbath evening. The interest in this course of lectures is increasing with each one that is delivered, and we anticipate the happiest results from them. One noisy fellow attempted to disturb the services, but was so promptly ejected from the building as to satisfy him that he could not, with impunity, disturb the congregation, and we are proud to record as a fact, worthy of mention, that no person in the room gave evidence of the slightest sympathy for him as he was marched out.
